Frequently Asked Questions

Do you guys take demos? How does our band get on Fat?

Oh we get demos. Shitloads of them. Mike thinks it would be lame not to accept demos, but then again, he doesn't have to listen to the things. If you must send us a demo, here is some advice: work on your songs, practice, and play shows. It takes years of hard work to be a band that people care about, and once you're there, labels will know about you. Another thing, talent is not a requirement for Fat bands, but partying skills are.

So yes, we accept demos. Send them all here:

Asian Man Records ATTN: Mike

Who owns Fat Wreck Chords? I hear that it's a diabolical cabal that is headed up by Mr. Brett, Lee Iacocca, and Charro?

Oooh, Charro. That would be nice. Fat Wreck Chords is an independently owned and operated record label founded by Fat Mike and his wife Erin. They still own it and they both still run the place.

Has Fat Mike ever put a paperclip in his computer because he thought the fan was making a "funny noise", which in turn melted his hard drive?

Yes.

What's the biggest record on Fat?

Some of our biggest records are: NOFX The War On Errorism, Me First and the Gimme Gimmes Have A Ball, the Rock Against Bush comps, Lagwagon Hoss, Short Music For Short People, No Use For A Name Leche Con Carne, Hi-Standard Angry Fist, and of course we've sold a boatload of the Fat Music comps. Contrary to the experts on the internet, Fat's never had any gold or platinum records

Tell me, do you capitalist swine at least have the decency to use sweat-shop-free shirts?

Whoa man, easy! The answer to that question is YES, almost all of the shirts we sell are sweat-shop-free and American made. There are a certain small few items that have yet to switch over, but we're getting there. The change came about when Chris Head of Anti-Flag suggested it to Fat Mike, and he was like, "Sure, dude." I know what you're thinking, "Chris Head actually speaks?" But that's an altogether different FAQ.

Old Man Markley out today!

L.A. bluegrass punks Old Man Markley's latest full length, Down Side Up, is out today! The album features thirteen tracks that blur the lines between bluegrass, country, and punk. Take a look at what CMT Edge had to say. A first for us, it isn't often we get a nod from the country circuit. Beginning today, head over to Spinner to stream Down Side Up in its entirety. Produced by Fat Mike and singer Johnny Carey, the album is a cohesive, foot tapping good time. Order it here, view their tour dates and enter this contest!

Old Man Markley debut new song on CMT!

L.A. bluegrass punks Old Man Markley have premiered their new song "Train of Thought" today on CMT! The song is from their new album, Down Side Up, due out March 5th and available for pre-order here! The album features thirteen tracks that blur the lines between bluegrass, country and punk, like the recently released singles Blood on My Hands and Rehearsal. coming Soon: STRUNG OUT – VOLUME ONE

Strung Out, LA's finest in speedy melodic punk mayhem, is one of the hardest working bands of the last 20 years. With a career which has so far produced 7 studio albums, numerous EP's, a live album and a mind-boggling number of shows, they continue to be a significant staple on the indie punk scene. In celebration of their longevity and with the positive feedback from fans for both 2012's Twisted in a Suburban Wasteland tour and the remixed songs on Top Contenders, Strung Out decided to finish the job and have Ryan Greene remix all three of their classic 90's albums in their entirety. This summer will see the release of deluxe reissues of Another Day In Paradise, Suburban Teenage Wasteland Blues and Twisted By Design! Three special records that certainly deserve some special treatment, and that's what will be on offer with these reissues and the all-encompassing Volume One box set, which will include the 3 albums plus a DVD that drummer Jordan Burns details below
